WELCOME

WELCOME TO PARIS FOR OUR 2025 EBHL MEETING

This long awaited event was made possible by joining the forces of the Muséum national d'Histoire naturelle (MNHN), the Société Nationale d'Horticulture de France (SNHF) and the Institut and Mazarine Libraries. Reflecting our European Botanical and Horticultural Libraries group, these three Parisian institutions have very different statutes and missions, but share the same concerns, interests and missions when it comes to curating and sharing botanical and horticultural documentation.

With a main theme of “Plant sources”, three threads will be followed in our program's conferences and visits at each of our three hosting institutions: the first day at MNHN will explore “New tools for botanical and horticultural documentation”; the second day at the Institut “Private herbaria, sources for botany”; and the third day at SNHF: “Understanding French horticulture: using and interpreting sources”.

Additional visits and presentations are offered by partners institutions, including a visit of the French

Senate gardens and archives, a conference on Redouté's paintings by the Académie d'Agriculture de France, and a visit and conference at the Ecole Nationale Supérieure de Paysage, located in Versailles Palace's Potager de Roi.

The program wouldn't be complete without social festivities: the main one will be a cocktail party held on a barge housing a café/botanical bookshop ; and the Redouté conference will be followed by a wine tasting with buffet.

We look forward to meeting all of you and celebrate together our love of plants and botanical art, books and archives.

Florence Tessier,
EBHL President

Suggestions and ideas for the rest of the day

Lunch : You'll find plenty of restaurants on the way to the Chateau (rue Satory).

Tour ideas : Entrance to visit the Chateau should be booked in advance for those who would wish to enjoy the opportunity (spring/summer time is peak season). An architecture and landscape biennial will be held in Versailles on the same day.

ACCOMMODATION

Our main venues are located in the 5th, 6th and 7th arrondissements. The Muséum national d'histoire naturelle is near métro stops Jussieu (lines 7 and 10), Censier-Daubenton (line 7) and Gare d'Austerlitz (lines 5 and 10) ; the Institute near métro stops Odéon or Saint-Germain on line 10, or a short walk across the river from stop Pont-Neuf on line 7; and the SNHF is near métro stop Rue du Bac on line 12, but 1 stop away from line 10.

The 5th and 6th arrondissements are often called the Latin Quarter, and justly renowned as a central and pleasant area in Paris. However some hotels use the term quite loosely for a wider area so if you intend to stay near one of our venues, be careful to check the address of your hotel, and the proximity of a métro stop preferably on lines 7 or 10. The hotels in this area (7th arrondissement included) may also be higher priced.

To find better prices, you can also look toward the 13th arrondissement : some hôtels in the 13th arrondissement are in walkable distance of the Muséum ; but you can also look further along lines 7 or 5 ; or in 12th and 11th arrondissements along line 5. An estimation of metro travel is 1 stop = 1,5 minute.

Selecting a hotel available on your dates can be done through the site Booking.com ; its ratings and guests reviews seem reliable and consistent with other sources. However it is generally recommended to book directly through the hotel itself.

Here's a too small, random, and absolutely non exhaustive list of places you could look into, based on their ratings..

HÔTEL HENRIETTE

9, rue des Gobelins,
75013 Paris,

+33 1 47 07 26 90

HOTEL DIANA

73 Rue Saint-Jacques,
75005, Paris,

+33 1 43 54 92 55

HOTEL MARGUERITE

102 avenue de Choisy,
75013 Paris,

+33 1 45 70 76 00

THE GREET HOTEL

22 rue Voltaire,
94270 Le Kremlin Bicêtre,

+33 1 45 21 19 09

APPARTHOTELS,

like Citadines Austerlitz,
Libertel Austerlitz Jardin des
Plantes, are also interesting lower budget options.

It is a low cost option with good ratings : walk to the metro can be shortened by taking the T9 tramway for one stop to métro stop Porte de Choisy on line 7.

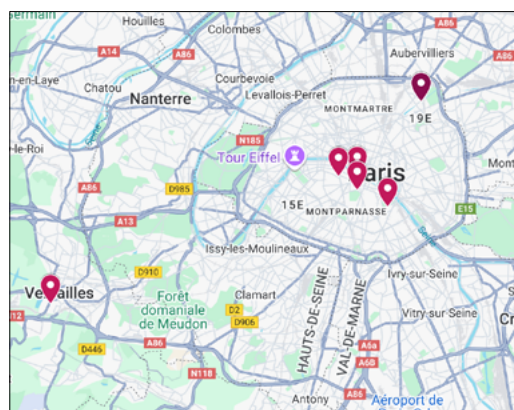

TRAVEL

EBHL venues in Paris are all easily accessible via metro. Versailles is also accessible by RER (regional express train). To travel with metro (or public buses) you have a choice between a weekly pass or tickets loaded on a card.

- Weekly Navigo travel pass for all zones (includes Orly airport via métro line 14, CDG airport via RER line B, and Versailles for the visit on Saturday 17th) (also available on mobile phone) = €31.60. More info here : <https://parisbytrain.com/paris-train-metro-week-pass-navigo-decouverte/>
- Navigo easy card : 2€ for the card itself, (or available on mobile phones) then you can load as many Metro/ RER tickets (2.50 €) as you need : these tickets are valid for Metro or RER wherever it goes, even to Versailles; with exception of airports.

RER B train to CDG airport cost 13 € and can be loaded on Navigo Easy card, BUT that card has to be empty (can not contain any other tickets). For Bus/ Tram there are 2 € tickets loadable on the same card.

More detailed info here : <https://parisbytrain.com/navigo-easy/> and here : <https://parisbytrain.com/navigo-pass-iphone-android-app/>

FOOD

BREAKFAST

Delegates must make their own breakfast arrangements. Coffee is provided by partners before each event.

LUNCH

A lunch will be provided for delegates on Day 1, 2 and 3 of conferences, and will mostly consist of buffet style finger foods. On the last day (excursion to Versailles), lunch will not be provided. Numerous restaurants and bakeries will be available.

DINNER

A cocktail party will be held at “Péniche L'eau et les rêves” on Thursday 15 May. A wine tasting & cheese platter dinner will be held at the end of Friday 16 May.

ON OTHER NIGHTS, DELEGATES ARE FREE TO ENJOY PARIS' WIDE VARIETY OF RESTAURANTS.
